

Introducing Zeken

Zeken Swap is the next generation autonomous yield and liquidity protocol which will include the Web platform, iOS and Android decentralized application! The Zeken protocol will enable users to exchange cryptocurrencies, NFT's and other derivatives through it's autonomous yield protocol. The liquidity on the other hand, will enable seamless and easy staking option for users to incentive the network while earning rewards for their service.

Creating a #ZEN atmosphere for the BSC Community.

Core Products and Services

What the Pancakelock Protocol core development team is working on.

Liquidity pool locker

The Zeken Protocol solves the issue of Pancakeswap exit scamming by using standardized non-custodial smart contracts that lock liquidity.

Team Token Vesting

The ZekenSwap smart-contracts will allow founders to create a vesting schedule for team members with specified dates.

NFT-infused Staking

A set of stake-able NFTs will be offered for purchase in ZekenSwap's upcoming public sale in the Q2 of 2021. By staking the NFT on Pancakelock, liquidity providers will be able to enjoy bigger farming multiplier rewards from the fees generated on the platform.

Our Product Sneak Peek

Our team has come up with a unique engineering and implementation design. We have been actively building this product, and are planning to fund and launch it on Binance Smart Chain.

One of the most important aspects of our product is making the UI/UX smooth, simple to use, and visually appealing.

ZekenSwap Tokenomics

3% Buy-back tax on each transaction, this will be maintained under the contract to allow a buy-back of some of the tokens whenever a sell occurs.

5% of every transaction is redistributed to every holder, thereby increasing every holders wallet without staking.

5% of evry transaction is added to a liquidity pool

5% of each transaction goes into the marketing wallet. This will be used to make the project grow.

Zeken Swap

Zeken token will be the fuel behind the Zeken Swap decentralized platform. It is a progressive deflationary token built on the latest DeFi protocol systems. The main goal of the token is to provide decentralised network transactions with a faster time and a cheaper exchange fee. The path forward for Zeken is determined by market fluctuations, but the model it runs on begs Zeken to succeed.

Ticker Symbol: COCO

Chain: Binance Smart Chain (BEP-20)

Max Supply: 1,000,000,000.000.000 ZEN

Coco Swap will reward its share holders that stake through the liquidity by both increasing their stake value and giving a good percentage share.

Manual Burns

Sometimes burns matter; sometimes they don't. A continuous burn on any one protocol can be nice in the early days, however, this means the burn cannot be finite or controlled in any way. Having burns controlled by the team and promoted based on achievements helps to keep the community rewarded and informed. The conditions of the manual burn and the amounts can be advertised and tracked.

ZekenSwap aims to implement a burn strategy that is beneficial and rewarding for those engaged for the long term. Furthermore, the total number of ZekenSwap burned is featured on our readout located on the website which allows for further transparency in identifying the current circulating supply at any given point of time.
